The purpose of your sexual history disclosure is to help you get rid of deviant secrets and deviant memories that interfere with your development of a healthy self esteem and healthy lifestyle. It is important that you be as thorough and honest as you can so you can be accountable for everything you can while you are in treatment. Honesty and thoroughness will help you become more appropriately uncomfortable with inappropriate sexual behavior, and will prepare you to build a healthier self-esteem (without deviant and shameful secrets). Keeping secrets about sexual behavior will prevent you from becoming honest, and from succeeding in treatment. Information in this disclosure may be verified through a variety of methods including polygraph and/or plethysmograph examination as deemed necessary by your therapist, probation officer, and caseworker.
